

STUDENTS PASS AMENDMENT WHICH CHANGES RESOLUTION

Meeting of Society Yesterday Largely Attended — All Phases of Question Discussed — Theatre Night Lauded by Hamilton — Regrets Expressed of Death of Sir Thomas Roddick.

Another very important meeting of the Students' Society was held yesterday afternoon, and considerable business was dealt with; the longest discussion was in regard to the Athletic Governing Board, which had been proposed on Feb. 5, when the Society last met. The principal result of this discussion was that the Resolution drawn up previously was amended to such an extent that the students shall have more control in the electing of this Board. The amendment makes the resolution read as follows:

Resolved: That the Students' Society of McGill University recommend to the Standing Committee on Physical Education of McGill University the formation of an "Athletic Governing Board" to control and administer all athletic monies of McGill University. Also that that portion of the universal fee of each student, namely, $3.00, formerly expended by the Students' Council for athletic purposes, be in future transferred to the Athletic Governing Board.

Also: That the composition of the said Athletic Governing Board be as follows:—

The Principal ex-officio.
Three members of the Faculty, to be appointed by the Students' Council on recommendation of the Principal.

Three graduates, to be appointed by the Students' Council on recommendation of the Graduates' Society.

The President of the Students' Council, and two members from the Students' Society, whom the Council have power to nominate.

R. L. Hamilton, president of the Students' Council, was in the chair at the meeting, which was attended by an enthusiastic audience of over a hundred and fifty. Numerous speakers were heard during the afternoon, and the students were given an opportunity to listen to a full discussion on both sides of every question.

The minutes of the former meeting were read by C. D. Fraser, secretary of the Council, and were immediately adopted. Hamilton then carefully explained the points of the first resolution. He had seen the Principal in the interim, and found what his opinion on the subject was. Sir Arthur had asked what power such a committee would have; for, as he said, "You can't have a committee in college dealing with college opinion unless it has some connection with the college." Therefore, it would be attached to the Department of Physical Education, but would nevertheless have the final say. Instead of it having three Faculty, three Graduates, and three Students, the Principal expressed himself as being rather in favor of the original resolution.

The meeting was then opened for discussion, and the subject for considerable time was the composition of the Board. Ambridge first asked what the use was of passing these resolutions was before knowing exactly what Sir Arthur Currie would countenance; if every change in the resolution was to take two weeks, things would advance rather slowly. To this J. L. O'Brien added that any resolution passed to-day would still be but an expression of opinion, as the constitution of the Students' Council could not be changed in such an impromptu manner.

D. R. Anderson told of his trip to Dartmouth, and of the way in which athletic affairs were governed there; with three of the Faculty, three Graduates and three students (who were the captains of the major sport teams), their system somewhat paralleled that suggested for here. The question was then raised as to whether co-operation with the Faculty would be realized if they were just represented by the Principal, the director of the D. of P. E., the Bursar and one of the Faculty—which was what the original resolution called for.

"Rog," McLagan advocated meeting the Principal half-way, if this could be done; he said that for four years the attitude had been one of fighting the Faculty, and a miserable failure had been registered. Then a practically new resolution was moved by Tidmarsh, which was the one given above, except that the two students elected would sit on the Students' Council.

This resolution was seconded, but was immediately hotly contested; there was a lot of talking concerning what relation there would be between these two members and the Students' Society if they did or did not sit on the Council. Tidmarsh gave several very justifiable reasons why these members should sit on the Council, with which others did not agree.

After more discussion an amendment to the amendment was moved by J. L. O'Brien, seconded and passed, viz., that the two student members should not sit on the Council, as it was already rather cumbersome. This concluded the matter of the governing board for the meeting.

The next matter brought up by Hamilton was the McGill Theatre Night. He explained the general idea of the scheme for the benefit of those who had not heard much about it. The Night will be one big yearly function in which the Faculty, the Graduates, the R. V. C. and the undergraduates will all get together. He announced that the Faculty had signified their willingness to put on a short skit. Sir Arthur Currie is giving his whole-hearted support to the proposal, and has sent a letter out to many of the Faculty, in which he urged them to get behind the project. The enthusiasm so far displayed on all sides has been decidedly encouraging; numerous fraternities, classes and musical organizations have offered their talent, but it has been decided to put on the acts by Faculties, and the other smaller organizations can join in with them. In finishing this subject, "Hammy" asked for the complete support of the undergraduates in this enterprise. He said that the St. Denis Theatre, where the show will be held, holds 2000, and as there are 2,700 undergraduates, full strength attendance will ensure success.

Hamilton then told of receiving an indirect notification from Miss Hurlbatt on the subject of the coming Women's Sports at the R. V. C. As is well known, the Intercollegiate Basketball League games will take place on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of this week; the Warden asked that the men support these games as well as the co-eds do the men's athletics. However, she asked that, in deference to the players of the Royal Victoria College team, the men should not give the R. V. C. yell in a feminine voice. This announcement was greeted with much applause.

In speaking of the coming elections, Hamilton suggested that those which could be gone through with at the regular time, should be. As a result of the possibility of a change in the constitution, the athletic members in the Council may be abolished, and O'Brien moved that their election should be postponed for two weeks. This will give time for the Athletic Board matter to be settled, and something definite arrived at.

McLagan then brought up the matter of the arrangements being made with Graduates to get support in football, which is mentioned elsewhere in this issue. Ambridge further explained this, and spoke of the suggested training house, to which reference is also made elsewhere.

NEW MUSICAL CLUB MAY BE FORMED SOON

Object Will be to Produce Music of Classical Nature

McGILL NITE

Mandolin Club Invited to Play at Allen Theatre

A meeting of the Musical Association was held yesterday afternoon with the idea of forming a Musical Club which will be composed of students around college who are interested in classical music. The object of this club is to bring out different musicians who will contribute selections to Sunday musicales and other functions. A meeting of the students interested in the club will be held on Thursday, March 1st, time and place to be announced later.

R. J. Moore, president of the club, announced that the club at present is working hard for its spring concert to be given on Monday, March 19th.

R. S. Logan, of the Mandolin Club, made similar remarks, stating that the Allen Theatre had asked the club to give another McGill Nite on Wednesday, Feb. 28th. This invitation was accepted and the club is busy preparing for the event.

Arrangements are being made for an orchestra to supply necessary music for the McGill Theatre Night.

Brewer explained the mix-up in regard to the B. W. and F. situation, which is fully dealt with in another part of this paper.

It was moved, and seconded, that this meeting go on record as deeply regretting the loss of Sir Thomas Roddick the noted surgeon, who recently passed away; he was a Governor, and will be missed in this capacity by Faculty and students alike.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

MEDICAL FACULTY.

Owing to the death of Sir Thomas Roddick, former Dean and Professor of Surgery, there will be no lectures or demonstrations in the Medical Faculty this afternoon.

All students are kindly requested to attend the funeral, which will be from his late residence, 705 Sherbrooke Street West.

The First Year will line up in front of the Biological Building, the other years in front of the Medical Building, at 2.15 p.m.

The cortege will leave the house at 2.30 p.m.

PROF. McKAY SPEAKS ON PSYCHOLOGY

Sense of Motion Was the Main Topic Discussed

LARGE GATHERING

Sense of Orientation of the Individual and Cause of Conduct Interesting.

An interesting meeting of the Psychological Society took place in Strathcona Hall last night at which Prof. I. MacKay discussed at length the relation of "sense of motion" to the science of psychology for the benefit of his audience. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Woodhouse, and were readily adopted by the members present.

Prof. MacKay commenced by speaking upon the lecture system of teaching a subject, so much in use now, saying that it had been run to ground; that the desired results were not being obtained by this method, and that as an absolutely efficient means of teaching a science it was a failure. A lecture consists of an essay, containing certain knowledge, read aloud to a listening audience who's minds do not secure the same concentration upon the subject that they would if the essay were read individually. Their attention is distracted by their roving eyes and the many other ways in which one's attention is taken away from a lecture. "Education is a matter of sources and sidelights," the sources are the actual facts enunciated, while the sidelights rec the structure of the lecture and the form which contains the sources. The only requisite for knowledge of a subject are the facts known about it, therefore the sidelights are unnecessary. He concluded on this by saying that the proper method of learning a science is by reading and studying it and not by listening to lectures.

Prof. MacKay then spoke about a few of the fundamental principles of psychology, one of which was that all consciousness and all conditions have their beginning with the sense of experience. Every conscious action or thought is the reaction of sense experience. This sense experience precedes every intuition, idea, or feeling we have; it precedes all knowledge and is the creative element in all conscious acts. Secondly, all consciousness leads to conduct. The sense experience creates the consciousness and this in turn produces conduct. All imagination, and, in fact, the complete run of mind and subsequent action are governed in this manner. The next principal was that the simplest form of sense experience is something moving across a smooth surface. This last being merely a creation of the imagination for the purpose of explaining the subject, and having no practical application. The fact that all consciousness is personal was next gone into; by this is meant that our beings are individual, that there is no such a thing as spiritual communication, or reading of mind, or any such thing. "Your consciousness is yours, and mine is mine," briefly conveys the idea. There is a co-operation of thought, conduct, work and action. Words also are merely preliminary and personal touch is obtained through conduct.

Next came the sense of orientation, which every individual has. It is simply that no one can help building up the world and universe about him, from his point of view and from the particular position he occupies in life. "We do not place ourselves as being in the universe," (Continued on Page 4.)

RESULTS OF MEET AT LAKE PLACID

Wade Wins Seven Mile Race, While Brown Comes Third

The McGill representatives at the International Amateur Ski meet being held at Lake Placid have so far acquitted themselves very creditably and it is expected that further victories will be captured today.

Only a small action was sent from the college, but these have done nobly and they are still going strong. Yesterday Bob Wade, of Science, led the field home in the 7-mile ski race, with Edson of Dartmouth second, Brown of McGill, capturing third place.

The ski jumping contest takes place to-day and Art Gravel, P. Knowlton and Philpotts, McGill's hopes, were practising yesterday to endeavor to add to the laurels of Old McGill.

BANQUET IS ENJOYED BY DENTAL MEN

Sir Arthur Currie Stressed the Importance of Loyalty

SPLENDID FUNCTION

Many Prominent Dentists at Faculty Banquet at Mt. Royal Hotel

"This is the best undergraduate banquet that I have ever attended," said Prof. C. M. McKergow, in answering the toast to "Our Guests," at the fifth annual Dental Dinner which was held last night by the Dental Undergraduate Society at the Mount Royal Hotel, and this seemed to be the general consensus of opinion among the large number of potential dentists present. The committee in charge of the arrangements of the banquet had spared no pains to make the affair truly representative of the dental profession, both in its collegiate and its professorial aspect, and the guests of honour included not only such distinguished persons as Sir Arthur Currie, Dean Thornton, of Dentistry, Dean Armstrong, of Medicine, Dean Laing, of Arts, and several members of the professoriate of various faculties, but also many prominent dentists practising in the city, and representatives from the Universities of Montreal and Toronto.

The first toast of the evening, that to "The King," was proposed by A. J. MacMillan, president of the Dental Society, who very ably, though bibulously officiated as chairman, and succeeded in delivering some of the most brilliant of many "bons mots" which were the feature of an evening of fine after-dinner oratory and wit. The toast to our "Alma Mater," which was proposed by C. Morris, was responded to by the Principal in a short address of moving eloquence on the topic of loyalty to one's university. Speaking particularly to the graduating class, Sir Arthur pointed out that in the future, among the most cherished memories of youth are those which are connected with the activities and friendships of college days. He hoped that at that time it would be found that the university had given to its graduates an attitude of mind, an instinct of loyalty and devotion to an ideal. There is a close connection, Principal Currie pointed out, between loyalty to one's Alma Mater, and loyalty to all that is best in national life. But college loyalty, like virtue, is to be taken for granted; its possession is no credit to the possessor, but its lack is highly to be commended.

In regard to present conditions in undergraduate athletic activities, Sir Arthur had a few weighty words. Although rooting, he stated, is not to be despised as an expression of loyalty, playing is a far greater one. Students who were trained for football, he had been told, from their first year (Continued on Page 2.)

UNION JAZZ TEA THIS AFTERNOON

McGill Dance Orchestra Plays in the Cafeteria

At the Jazz Tea to be held in the Union this afternoon, the popular McGill Dance Orchestra will make its second appearance of the session at these affairs. The last tea at which they played was just before the Christmas holidays and they have been good enough to offer their services for the second time. George Cloutier, Moore Kelly, "Jazz" Harrison and Lloyd d Stephen will play as usual, and the lovers of the snappy brand of music will be treated to their peppy offerings.

For the Jazz Tea last Friday the cafeteria was crowded to its fullest capacity and it is expected that there will be the same turnout tomorrow. There is no doubt that these affairs have met with the approval of the student body, and it is only to be expected that they should. The service in the cafeteria is superior to that of last year, the food is better, and in addition to this there is the interest of being able to listen to some mighty good music while enjoying the old cup of tea.

The House Committee wishes to take this opportunity to again state that these teas are made possible only through the fact that the members of the various orchestras which are good enough to play each week are giving their time gratis in an endeavor to keep up interest in the Union.

ADNEY'S ORCHESTRA

LAW UNDERGRADS. BANQUET COMING

Brilliant Speakers Among Those to be Present

If the present plans of the Law Undergrad. Society mature, their coming dinner should be one of success and good fellowship unprecedented in the history of the Faculty. And if the balance of the invited guests express their acceptance of the Society's invitation (a pleasing number have already done so), then the brilliant array of legal talent that will assemble for the occasion will have every semblance of the annual meeting of the Canadian Bar Association. It has always been the aim of the respective law dinner committees each year to make the banquet held during their tenure of office a "get-together" of all the various friends of the Law Faculty.

Included in the guest-list are: Sir Arthur Currie, Hon. Mr. Justice P. B. Mignault of the Supreme Court of Canada, Dean Laing, Hon. Mr. Justice R. A. E. Greenfield, Dean of the Faculty; Hon. Mr. Justice Martin, Chief Justice of the Superior Court; Hon. Mr. Justice E. E. Howard, of the Court of Appeals; the Hon. Messrs. Justice Survever and Justice Rinfret; Messrs. G. W. MacDougall, K.C.; W. F. Chipman, K.C.; Pierre Beaulac, K.C.; and Arnold Wainwright, K.C.; Dr. I. MacKay, Prof. H. A. Smith, O. S. Tyndale and H. E. A. Rose. Representatives are expected from Osgoode Hall, University of Montreal and Laval (Quebec).

As announced a few days ago, the Breakfast Room in the Queen's Hotel has been reserved for the occasion, Tuesday, March 6th. No detail is being omitted to ensure that this official "night-out" of the Law students will be one of long remembrance. The menu submitted is a most enticing one, and the various sub-committees on toasts, music, and decorations are all working hard to bring their respective undertakings well up to par.

The agreement between the executive and the hotel is such that an exact number of the diners must be furnished 48 hours ahead of the banquet. Consequently the sale of tickets, which starts this morning, must be concluded at an early date. Undergrad. members are asked to apply for their tickets to the following: Third Year—Jacques Senecal. Second Year—Fred. Hudon. First Year—Sydney Pierce. As the Undergraduate Society fund is bearing a very substantial part of the expense the undergrad. price will be $2 considerable of a reduction from the assessment of former years.

KING COOK TO BE CROWNED BY MEDS

To those who have been looking forward to the annual Coronation of King Cook the announcement that the date has been set for March fifteenth will no doubt be most welcome.

The class of '27 is determined to make this year's entertainment eclipse any that has been put on in previous years, and to this end the committee, backed by the entire class, is working steadily. The talent and the unusual features which are being introduced are such that even the most sophisticated seniors, who will always be remembered by their glorified King Cook celebration, will admit that the present Sophs. have relegated all previous performances to inferior positions.

Special attention is being paid this year to the Freshment who will be seeing this widely-known ceremony for the first time. Tickets will be available in a few days.

INTER-UNIVERSITY ORATORS TO MEET

Speakers of Varsity, Queens and McGill Will Debate on Monday

McGill debaters are busily preparing for their trials against Varsity here on Monday and against Queen's in Kingston on the same day. Clarke and Batshaw will probably speak in Montreal, while Everett and Penrose will make the trip to the Limestone City. Last year Queen's Visited Montreal while McGill journeyed to Toronto. At the conclusion of last year's Intercollegiate debates Queen's was declared a winner defeating both the McGill and University of Toronto debating teams. Owing, however, to the extensive series of eliminations and the many opportunities for public speaking that have been afforded the students of the university this session, it is anticipated, not without good grounds, that the McGill representatives will be in a better position to win than they were when last the three colleges met on the debating floor.

Of the McGill men selected to represent their Alma Mater as debaters two, Penrose and Everett, are Sophomores in Arts of the other two one, Batshaw, is a second year Law student, while the other, Clarke, is pursuing a course in Theology.

"TEN MINUTES MORE."

"A few minutes more and I'll get up; a few minutes of bridge before we commence work; a few minutes more—," but it would be futile to attempt to enumerate the infinite variety and the illimitable number of circumstances under which "a few minutes more" fit into the life of the undergraduate. The parts played by these simple words are innumerable, and the services they render to the burdened conscience of the student are too sacred to bear repetition in cold print. However, despite the benefits of a carefree conscience and the doubtful utility of a ready excuse for all contingencies, the advantages of a system of procrastination are all too obscure to merit support. A few minutes' longer in bed in the morning mean the loss of an hour's lecture; a few minutes' extra bridge means the loss of an evening's work, and possibly some of the monthly allowance. Try as we may it is no easy task to discover entire satisfaction in the plea that "a few minutes" will make no difference one way or the other. Deep in our mind lurks the conviction that we are not "playing the game," and the slight consolation obtained from "a few minutes more" absence from our rightful routine, than should be the case, does not gather strength from its comparison with a sound conviction founded upon the world's experience.

A few minutes wasted here, a few minutes squandered there, is valuable time lost somewhere. There is nothing that can be accomplished without the assistance of minutes, the greater the contract the greater is the aid of the minutes demanded for its execution. Upon a comprehension of the value of time depends appreciation of one's own efforts. A man that fails to value his time, fails to value himself.

YESTERDAY'S MEETING.

The business completed at yesterday's meeting of the Students' Society was noteworthy for the manner in which it was carried through in contrast to the previous meeting of the society which was marked by a desire to finish the discussion at all costs, and by a tendency to introduce irrelevant discourse. There was a goodly volume of business transacted yesterday afternoon, not the least important of which was the proposal and the subsequent discussion relating to the training of a Winning Football Team next fall. The plan brought forward of providing a house in which the players could eat and sleep is worthy of hearty endorsement, as a means of doing away with the obvious handicap of lack of training under which certain past aggregations have suffered. It is quite evident, too, we believe, that the undergraduate body will willingly give to the support of such a venture, that the students desire to have a Winning Team, and will do all in their power to effect such a combination. Furthermore, we are certain that the introduction of the personal element, as mentioned yesterday, by exacting from each undergraduate a stipulated sum for the maintenance of training quarters for the Senior Rugby Squad will do a great deal in creating a genuine concern over the success of the team to whose support the students are actively contributing. In further connection with rugby it may be said that any opportunity of procuring graduates to aid with the coaching of the team, as was mooted, cannot be too quickly seized.

THE ELECTIONS.

Nominations will be received up till the fifth of March for the offices of Presidency of the Students' Council, Presidency, Vice-Presidency, and Secretaryship of the Union. The election of the men who will fill these positions will be held on the fourteenth of March. The choosing of the heads of the major athletic clubs will necessarily be postponed until the final decision is reached with regard to the inclusion of the suggested Board of Control in the Students' Society. Meanwhile, it behooves every college spirited student at McGill to give thought to the forthcoming elections and attention to the selection which he will be called upon to make.

ALL READY FOR ASSAULT AT ARMS

Well Balanced Team Confident of Victory

The boxing, wrestling and fencing team are ready for the Assault-at-Arms to be held at Kingston on Saturday. Coach Smith announced last night that the team was one of the best balanced and strongest that has been produced for many a year. Some very promising material is noticeable, especially in the wrestling team. In this department Montgomery, in the 145 pound class, has very promising outlook for the Intercollegiate title.

Silver represents the 110 pound class, while McDonald looks good in the 118. Reid will take his place in the 125-pound aggregation, while Clement, who has progressed wonderfully, will defend the 135-pound class.

The middleweight representative is Armstrong, who was Intercollegiate champion last year and who expects to duplicate his feat this time. He is going even better than formerly.

In the light-heavyweight Freedman is undoubtedly one of the strongest men in college while Rumble defends the heavy-weight class and is confident of winning. The line-up of the boxers is as follows: 110-pound—Schlieffer. 118-pound—F. Wilson. 125-pound—Snow. 135-pound—Merritt. 145-pound—Brewer. 158-pound—Marshall. Light-heavyweight—Abinovich. There is no one representing the heavyweight class this year.

CONDITION OF CO-EDS SHOWS IMPROVEMENTS

The condition of Miss Florence Gardner, as reported yesterday evening, is favourable, and provided that no complications set in she has been given a fighting chance for her life. Miss Gardner's courage and sweet disposition has won for her the hearts of both nurses and doctors at the hospital, and her many friends are delighted to hear of her condition, which is little short of miraculous.

Miss Slack's condition was reported to be satisfactory last night, and she is progressing favourably after her operation for appendicitis.

SENIOR GIRLS URGED TO JOIN A.A.A.W.

The following letter of particular interest to the women graduates and students of McGill has been received from the American Association of University Women:

If you are soon to be an alumna of your college—in other words, if you are a senior girl—you are probably wondering what you will ever do without the college associations, the organizations in which you have worked so long and interestingly. It isn't necessary to worry long over that matter, for here is an organization just ready and waiting for you and your energies—the American Association of University Women. Your Alma Mater has met all the requirements of this association so that it is possible for you to become a member. This Association offers an opportunity for you to make new friends with college women from 130 colleges of the United States, continue your old associations and find an outlet for all the energies you have left over from Commencement days. If you are planning to teach or enter one of the many professions, there may be a branch in your new home town, and you can at once find companions and make new friends. If you are interested in foreign study there are a number of fellowships offered. If you are planning to travel in this country or abroad there are club houses in various cities whose privileges may be yours upon certain conditions. If you are interested in meeting women students of foreign countries this is possible through the club houses which are being established gradually in various capitals of those countries. You are able to have this opportunity because the A.A.U.W. is one of the seventeen national college associations represented in the International Federation of University Women. College women from these seventeen countries meet for an International Conference once in two years and discuss the problems of education in their various countries. Most interesting acquaintances and friendships are formed in this manner.

In your own country you are enabled to meet women of all ages and experiences and colleges and work with them in things that add culture and education to all phases of American life. Some of the most prominent and best known women in the country are members and are coming to regard the National Club House at Washington as the place for meeting other college women for conferences upon all possible subjects. Some of the nationally known women who are members are Mrs. Herbert Hoover, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, Dorothy Canfield Fisher, Annette Adams, First U.S. Assistant Attorney-General of the United States Judge Florence Allen, first woman judge; Lucille Atcherson, first woman Secretary to Embassy of the U.S.; Julia Lathrop, formerly head of the Children's Bureau of the U.S.; Jane Adams, of Hull House fame; Mrs. T. G. Winter, President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Mary Wood Park, President of the League of Women Voters; Florence Wilson, Librarian of the League of Nations at Geneva; Alice Robertson, Representative from Oklahoma in Congress; Major Julia Stimson, head of the Army Nurses; Julia Corliss Preston, State Superintendent of Schools of Washington; Grace Abbott, head of the Children's Bureau; and so the list could be continued to include musicians, artists, social workers, university trustees, deans of women, etc., etc.; women in all phases of civic and professional life. You can join them in this organization by sending $2.00 to the Executive Secretary, 1634 I Street, Washington, D.C. If sent at once it will entitle you to membership until June 1924.

MEANS OF EARNING NEXT YEAR'S FEES

This afternoon, at 5 o'clock, in Strathcona Hall, the first drill class for the "Wear-ever" sales force will be held.

Fourteen men have already chosen their territory for the coming summer, in which they will sell "Wear-ever" aluminum cooking utensils. There is still territory left for satisfactory men who wish to earn sufficient money during the summer months to finance their college term. This is the first year that McGill has been organized for the purpose of sending out a sales force. Last year about fourteen McGill men sold "Wear-ever" but there was very little preliminary training given the men before going into the field, and no assistance given after beginning work. The purpose of the series of drill classes which start to-night is to train salesmen thoroughly before entering the field.

The local "Wear-ever" organization is under "Windy" Brewer, who has as general agents, Banks and Dowd, of Medicine, Mitchell and Pepin, of Commerce and Arts respectively.

Any student who wishes hard, but highly remunerative work, would do well to see one of these men and secure details. Thousands of American students sell "Wear-ever" each summer, and there were about seventy-five men from Varsity who sold during last summer.

THE POOR REFEREE

Referees are human and therefore not infallible, and referees have been known upon occasion to deliberately "sell" a game; however, such cases are much more infrequent than the booing at recent basketball matches would seem to indicate. The tendency to yell when and what one's neighbor yells is an interesting phase of mob psychology.

Few spectators seem to realize that the notably thankless job of referee is not usually sought after, that few Intercollegiate basketball referees retire on the lavish honorarium received for their services, that a referee is right in the game not in the gallery or on the side lines, that he generally has more than the superficial knowledge of the average spectator; in short, that the chances are all for his decisions being superior to that of an excited crowd. When it is unfortunately necessary to select a referee who is of necessity in sympathy with the home team it is to his credit that he can give the visitors the benefit of the doubt—always.

To "razz" a referee who is deliberately stealing a game is much too humane, but to apply the same treatment to a man who is doing his best to be fair, is unjust and ill-advised. In addition to sending visitors away with a bad taste it adds to the difficulty of the referee's task and increases the possibility of errors. We wouldn't say never razz a referee but "well—hardly ever!"—Queen's University Journal.

GRADUATE SUPPORT

Another of Projects Discussed at Students'

More interesting information about football which was brought forward yesterday at the Students' Society meeting, when both Ambridge and McLagan spoke of the proposed training-house where the football teams could live and thereby keep in perfect condition. This project also has the support of the Graduates, who are willing to provide some of the necessary money.

McLagan told of the need for such a house; in the year 1912, when McGill had practically a new and unexperienced team, a system such as this was carried out, with the result that the Intercollegiate championship was won by the wearers of the red and white. He did not prophesy that such a thing could be accomplished in a year, but the foundation of a strong team might easily be built up. His idea was to get the undergraduates to sign away either fifty cents or a dollar of their canteen money.

Ambridge heartily agreed with the idea. He felt assured that the graduates would take an increasing interest in the football team now that they had been approached. In discussing the question of raising money he appealed to the undergraduates to show concrete interest in giving donations; it had been suggested that the different undergraduate societies each subscribe money, but he thought that the giving ought to be individually, as in this way alone could every man come to feel an interest in the team. And he therefore asked that the meeting should do something in the way of voting money.

As a result of this appeal Brewer moved that the meeting go on record as being in favor of supporting the proposition of obtaining a training-house, and this was seconded by Bert Tremaine, who also declared himself to be heartily in accord with the move.

From this action it was seen that the students' desire that the team should have every opportunity of improving, and it is to be sincerely hoped that the year 1923 will close with the emblem representing the championship of the Intercollegiate Rugby Football Union removed from Queens and safely ensconced in the halls of old McGill.

PHI DELTS BEAT FAST HOCKEY TEAM

Inter-fraternity Fixture Ends
With Score 2-0

Last night in one of the fastest games of inter-fraternity hockey played this year, the Epsilon Phi's went down to defeat before the Phi Delt. The score was 2 to 0, and indicates the closeness of the play, and the game was not safely stowed away till the final whistle.

Both goals were scored in the first period, the first being batted in by Davies from a scrimmage in front of the Epsilon Phi's net, and the second was the result of an end to end rush by Don Smith. Neither side displayed any combination, the whole play consisting of individual rushes. Davies, Smith and Robinson starred for the winners, while Gorrie won a great deal of applause for his brilliant poke-checking. Burland and James for the Epsilon Phi's played stellar hockey, while Mitchell put up a fine game on the defence. The line-up was as follows:

B. W. AND F. SITUATION EXPLAINED YESTERDAY

Yesterday afternoon, at the close of the Students' Society meeting, W. B. Brewer, president of the Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing Club, gave a full explanation of the circumstances which resulted in the McGill men making an unnecessary trip to Kingston last Friday.

At the meeting of the Intercollegiate Union, which was held in November, Queens was not represented, and therefore the choosing of the date was elected Secretary, and as such he either on the third or fourth Friday

EXHIBITION GAMES

Weakened by Loss of Players
To Hockey Squad

On Saturday morning the Mount Royal Arena will be the scene of the deciding battle between the M.S.P.E. and R.V.C. hockey teams for the championship of the Montreal Ladies' Hockey League. Each team has now won four victories and suffered one defeat, M.S.P.E. having lost to the Y.W.C.A. and R.V.C. to M.S.P.E.

The game on Saturday will be an exciting one, as both teams are now in the very pink of condition and this will be the last practice game before the Varsity matches. Though the school players are greatly handicapped by the absence of their captain and star defence player, Miss Florence Gardner, they will undoubtedly put upon the ice an extremely formidable team which will call forth all the energies of the R.V.C. team to combat it. The time of the match has not been officially announced yet but will appear in tomorrow's "Daily."

On Tuesday, the 27th, at 5.30 o'clock, in the Mount Royal Arena, the Varsity McGill Intercollegiate hockey match takes place, when R.V.C. meets the Varsity players in the one decisive yearly game for the hockey trophy. The home team has great hopes this year, though it is announced that Varsity is sending down very strong players. On the following day Varsity will meet the M.S.P.E. team, and this match, though not an intercollegiate one, will be of great interest to all who know anything of the School's hockey prowess.

GRADUATE COACHES FOR RUGBY SQUAD

Practical Assistance to Students by McGill Old Boys

Yesterday, at the meeting of the Students' Society, T. R. McLagan, President of the Football Club, spoke at some length on the changes which will take place in the direction and coaching of the rugby squads. Recently, the graduates have shown considerable interest in the betterment of the lamentable state of this activity, and good results should follow.

The arrangement is that the graduates will supply five coaches to work under the direction of Shaughnessy, and in this way new material will receive due attention. These graduate coaches will be men of experience, who will probably all have played on former McGill senior teams, and who will thus be fully qualified to direct the young recruits who see the gliding of old McGill for the first time.

Another very important thing that the graduates intend to take up is forming committees in different large centres to act as lookout committees. Thus they will get in touch with young football players of note, and try to show them the great advantages to be derived by going to McGill. One of the Societies which has already signified its intention of following up this matter is the Ottawa Valley Graduate Society.

Besides getting such important assistance from the graduates, it is expected that valuable aid may be proffered by the Faculty and Governors; in these ways it is to be hoped that McGill will vindicate in full measure the terrible defeat which she suffered this season.

and Saturday of February, and Brewer understood that this year it would be on the third Friday and Saturday, viz. the 16th and 17th.

The Queen's representative was elected Secretary, and as such he should have notified the different colleges of the date of the Assault-Arms, but he did not, and, in fact, has not done so yet; in this respect Queens is decidedly at fault.

Toronto Varsity, not being sure of the date, wrote the secretary, asking this information. Brewer admitted not having done this for McGill, and for this reason he is somewhat in the wrong. He told of the attitude of the Queens professoriate in regard to McGill's loss of money, which amounts to about $330; these men said that if Queens was found to be in the wrong, they would do all in their power to effect a reimbursement.

This is all that has been done so far.

M.S.P.E. WILL MEET R.V.C HOCKEY TEAM

Two Teams Tie for Championship

SATURDAY

Mount Royal Arena Will be Scene of Conflict

During the visit of the Toronto and Queen's basketball teams to Montreal the Physical Eds. will play two exhibition games in the Convocation Hall at the R.V.C. On Thursday night, preliminary to the R.V.C. match with Queen's, the M.S.P.E. will play Toronto. The game will start at 7.45. On Saturday night the School will play Queens preliminary to the R.V.C. match with Toronto.

The Physical Ed. team should put up a good game. It has been unfortunate in the loss of two star players in Miss Florence Gardner, a splendid centre, and Miss Flanagan, whose services are required on the hockey team. However, the team as it stands should prove efficient against the visitors. The captain, Miss Duff-Stuart, will take care of the shooting with Miss McTaggart as an able assistant. The centres, Miss Perry and Miss Ibbotson, have played inter-school basketball for several years and both have a very thorough knowledge of the game. Miss Bain and Miss Pulkinghorn have already proved their ability on the defence and will no doubt be useful obstacles to the visiting forwards.

Tickets for the above games may be bought at the Union.

Line-up:
Forwards—K. Duff-Stuart (Capt.) N. McTaggart.
Centres—E. Perry, F. Ibbotson.
Defence—D. Bain, M. Pulkinghorn.
Subs—B. Gordon, F. Argue, M. Rexford.

R.V.C. UNDERGRADS WILL SUPPORT MCGILL NITE

A meeting of the R.V.C. Undergraduate Society was held yesterday in the Common Room at 4 o'clock. The secretary read a letter of resignation from Mlle. Touren, who has hitherto been Honorary President of the Societe Francaise. It has always been a great privilege for the Societe Francaise to have Mlle. Touren as its chief supporter, for she has never failed to give most valuable assistance to all the society's activities. The meeting regretted very much the unfortunate incident which resulted in Mlle. Touren's resignation. It was thereupon decided that Mlle. Touren should be requested to withdraw her resignation with the assurance that the society would earnestly endeavor to show greater appreciation of her efforts in the future.

The next question brought forward was that of McGill Theatre Night. Miss Foster, who has been representing R.V.C., expressed the plans already formulated for the event. The meeting then decided the R.V.C. should lend their support to the undertaking, and, upon request, selected a committee consisting of Miss M. Grigg, who was to act as convener with Miss A. Sharples and Miss E. Basken, to co-operate with Miss Foster.

Miss Roy, hockey manager, drew the attention of the society to the fact that R.V.C. and M.S.P.E., now tied for the championship of the Ladies' Amateur Hockey League, would play off in a game on Saturday at the Mount Royal Arena if arrangements could be made. She urged that the meet be supported by a large attendance from R.V.C.

WORKING STUDENTS

Benefits derived or detriments resulting from working, in addition to carrying a full curriculum of college studies, are again the subject of controversy. And as usual the practical men can see the benefits and the academic men point out the faults of such a plan.

Any man working outside of school hours or taking part in any kind of extra-curriculum activity will admit that he could make better grades if he were giving his full time to his studies, but too often the man who is doing nothing but carrying school work wastes as much time as the self-supporting student spends in earning his way or the man who is interested largely in campus activities.

No broadminded person will deny that a college education obtained at any cost is not a direct theft to the person receiving the training, whether the results be apparent in an increased income or not. But the practical men of the business world, can see the advantages of contacts with problems which are brought about by outside work.

Many contacts would never be made and many situations would never be met by the young men and women before going out into the world from colleges if they had not participated in campus activities or had not been employed during their leisure hours. Men and women graduates often attribute their success in their lines of work to the experience

QUEENS AND R.V.C. WILL PLAY TONIGHT

First Game of Intercollegiate Meet

7.45 P.M.

Convocation Hall to be Scene
of Basketball Game

Tonight the first game of the Women's Intercollegiate Basketball League will be played in the Convocation Hall at the R.V.C. The Queen's team arrived last night, while the Varsity team arrive in town this morning. This afternoon both teams will be given a chance to try out the hall, while tonight Queen's will play McGill in the final game of the League.

In spite of the fact that the McGill team has lost one of its strongest members in the person of Miss Zerada Slack, who is at present in the Royal Victoria Hospital suffering from appendicitis, the team is determined that the trophy presented by the Students' Council shall remain in Montreal for a season. Since Queen's, doubtless, is resolved that this same trophy shall go to Kingston, the three games should prove to be very closely contested.

The home team has had a very good season this college year. Games were played with Macdonald College the Y.W.C.A., the M.S.P.E., only one of which resulted in a defeat for R.V.C. This was the match with Macdonald, the first game of the season, and was due to poor combination and lack of team play. Since these games the team has been practising hard and much improvement is to be seen.

The R.V.C. team consists of Miss D. Russell, the captain, who plays centre; Miss R. Dutton, Miss Pprie, Miss Leggatt, Miss Shlakman and Miss E. Dutton. The substitutes are Miss Pick, Miss McWalters and Miss Murray. All these girls, with the exception of one, played on last year's intercollegiate team, and the majority of them are now playing for their final year on the R.V.C. team. Miss Russell, the captain, is well-known for her brilliant work as jumping centre, especially for her intercepting. Miss Dutton, the side-centre, plays a good steady game in conjunction with Miss Russell, and in spite of the fact that she is only in her first year, has already shown that she is an invaluable member of the team.

Miss Spier and Miss Leggatt comprise the forward line. At the beginning of the year Miss Spier played defence, and before this distinguished herself as a star centre, but now she is back on the team as forward, where, if possible, she excels still more. Miss Leggatt frequently takes the breath of the audience away with her spectacular field shots, which go into the basket no matter what the distance may be.

Miss Shlakman, who is taking Miss Slack's place on the team, played on the Intercollegiate last year and the year before, where she made a reputation for herself for her steady game as defence. Her partner, Miss E. Dutton, was a sub on last year's team, and this year has played some fine games for the college team, being a good interceptor of passes as well as a steady guard.

The three games will take place tonight, Friday night and Saturday night. Queen's and McGill play off tonight. Varsity and Queen's on Friday, and Varsity and McGill on Saturday provided no changes have to be made in the schedule at the last minute. Before each of these matches exhibition games will be staged by the M.S.P.E. and the other collegiate team not playing. The M.S.P.E. have a very fine team with good combination and two very good shots, so that some very fine basketball will be seen. As far as is known, the Varsity team has only three of last year's members, Miss B. Taylor and Miss M. Asman, who played at centre, and Miss B. Aher, a defence. It is believed also that the Queen's team is composed of nearly all new members.

These intercollegiate games will be the first of their kind to be held in Montreal. Last year McGill and Queen's met at Toronto, and the year before the games were played off at Kingston. Now it is R.V.C.'s turn to entertain her sister colleges, and because of the interest taken lately in women's intercollegiate activities as a proof of which is the trophy presented by the Students' Council of McGill to the Women's Intercollegiate Basketball League, a large and enthusiastic audience is expected to be present at each of these games.

Dean Henderson's remarks on the subject of working outside are naturally on the academic side and stress the importance of the studies which the student is carrying. He is a champion of the well-rounded education—as a dean of the College of Arts certainly should be—and presents his arguments in a convincing manner.

But for the man who is going to enter some specialized line of work the opportunity to gain some practical experience in that work while getting the theory at the University, looks too good to let pass, and he is backed in his opinion by many successful college graduates.—Ohio, State Lantern.

Physical Eds. Lose the First Game, But Win Second

In the return basketball match against the Y.W.C.A. the Physical Eds. first team lost by the narrow margin of one basket, the final score being 31-29, while the second team defeated their opponents 51 to 18.

The game played by the First team was marked by good checking on both sides, the guards being especially effective in this. The passing of the School team was not up to the usual standard, but this was no doubt due to the fact that there was a slight alteration of positions. The "Y" team showed the better combination, Miss H. Laing being effective in intercepting passes. On the M.S.P.E. team Miss K. Duff-Stuart made some brilliant long shots, while Miss N. MacTaggart was responsible for a great many of the short shots.

The play of the Physical Eds. promises well for the game against Varsity to-night. This game is being played in Convocation Hall at 7.45 p.m. The School second team played well, the passing being exceptionally good. Miss K. Gilmour, as jumping centre, was very effective as pivot in working the ball down the gym, where it was well taken care of by the forwards. At the end of the first period the score was 25-4 in favour of the M.S.P.E.

In the second period the "Y" put up a splendid fight to even the score, but despite a noticeable improvement in combination and shooting, the final score of 51-18 was in favour of the Physical Eds.

QUIPS

MORE REALITY THAN RHYME.

When co-eds meet next Monday night,
In that big hockey game,
We're gonna root with all our might,
For old R. V. C.'s fame.
'Cause we've been warned we should refrain

From voices meek and tender,
And chirp "drink tea" we should restrain

In female tones to render.

So when the teams line up to play,
We'll all begin to roar—
'Watch Robertson—out of her way—
'She's out for blood and gore!"

When Neway Grant goes down to shoot,
And makes a noble bid,
The boys will all get up and root
For "Rhoda—atta kid!"

When Frances gives the puck a ride,
And scores a wicked goal,
The referee may call "offside—
'Your stockings are not rolled."

And then we'll see the speedy wing,
They call her Cyclone Roy,
We'll hear the big Arena ring
With "Alice—atta boy!"

And when the guardian of the net
Will spot imbecile... ga' w' foel8
Will stop them by a hair,
We'll heave a sigh and yell, "you bet
'Vezina Kerr is there!"

If Varsity should throw a stick
When Marshall should have scored,
Just watch this Helen do the trick,
We'll shout "give 'em the board!"

WHO
is the tall Med. Senior who has pink letters delivered to him during clinics.

AND
are they from the West?

WHO
is the Commerce Senior, hailing from the Pacific Coast, who has been suddenly transported from the world of facts to a realm of idealism?

HAS
he not been heard to remark that he was a man "of experience and judgment"?

WHO
is the Science Sophomore, of dashing ski fame, who, for a matter of principle, refused to avail himself of the party spread in his honour on Monday evening?

WHO
is the Science Junior who has cancelled all tea engagements for the last week, as proved by his unshaven countenance?

WHO
is the quiet, unassuming member of First Year Arts, whose domicile is in the far West, who invariably spends the week-end in Toronto?

IS
there any reason besides the excellent brand of cigarettes which he carries back with him?

AND
is the fair Sophomore who fell so hard when skiing on the mountain on Monday night?

AND
did she need a quiet smoke at the Ontario Club Dance afterwards to restore her shattered nerves?

WHO
is the Science Senior who retaliated for his broken skin by calling a dog a poodle?

WHO
is the Science Freshman in Section
D, who is trying to grow a moustache?

AND
does it tickle?

WHO
is the brown-eyed R.V.C. Sophomore who has tea every Saturday afternoon with the same young man at the same old place?

WHEN
will she learn that you can't look soulfully into somebody's eyes and pour out tea at the same time?

WHO
is the Med. Soph. from the great woolly West who so valiantly defended his noble self last Thursday evening against a fierce and ravenous bulldog and its meek owner. We would like to know if he has yet recovered?

AND
might not a few lessons in the boxing club enable him to emerge from his next argument with more recognizable features?

WHO
was the R.V.C. Senior who was so overcome at the Undergrad. meeting that she precipitated in a heap on the floor?

DID
the discussion prove too much for her?

AND
is she usually so easily startled?

WHO
was the Science Sophomore who, having seen the ski somersaults on Saturday, tried to do the same on Sunday morning?

AND
was the "hound" killed or only frightened?

AND
did the fair owner of said "hound" show forethought by covering her ears with her hands?

WHO
are the "business" gentlemen who paid an informal visit to Med. '24's early morning lecture the other day?

AND
did they come to see the pictures?

AND
do they still think that Dr. C. lectures on "Export Trade."

AND
were they convinced that it was rather "Import" than "Export" before they left?

WHO
is the Arts student who was such an earnest spectator of the "Beautiful and Damned" last Sunday night?

WHO
is the member of the R.V.C. hockey team who made two men fall for her in the practice at the Arena the other night?

DID
she fall for them?

WHO
is the well known Law Soph., a member of the McGill Debating team, who spent such an enjoyable fifteen minutes before the Maccabean meeting last Sunday?

AND
should such intimate relations between members of the Faculty and the undergraduate body be encouraged?

WHO
are the immigrants at R. V. C.?

AND
do they come from the "Bandana" Islands?

AND
when does the next shipment arrive?
